'We owe it to the audience'

As Dec, Scarlett and Stephen jet off to Florida's Universal Studios, we reveal what's in store for the spectacular series finale...

ENTERTAINMENT

Saturday Night Takeaway

SATURDAY / ITV / 7PM

The on-screen chemistry of presenting duo and real-life best friends Ant McPartlin and Declan Donnelly has been a key reason why Ant & Dec's

Saturday Night Takeaway is a show that always leaves you smiling.

This series has been tinged with sadness, however, since Ant's personal life hit the headlines, forcing him to step down from his TV commitments.

With the future of this series of Saturday Night Takeaway in doubt, Dec then confirmed that – for the first time in their 30-year career – he would present the final two instalments without Ant.

In a statement on the show's Twitter account, Dec said: 'Whilst I never thought I'd be in this position, after much discussion and careful consideration we've decided that the remaining two shows of this series of Saturday Night Takeaway will go ahead.'

'We made a promise to take hundreds of deserving winners to Florida to watch the series finale, and we will honour that. Everyone at ITV and the Takeaway team feels we owe it to the audience to complete the series.'

So Dec, alongside show favourites Scarlett Moffatt and Stephen Mulhern, has jetted off with over 200 members of the Takeaway audience to Orlando, Florida, to bring us a spectacular end-of-series finale, live from Universal Studios this Saturday night.

'It's lovely to take the audience away and do the show somewhere different,' says Dec.

'We started off just sending them on holiday and then we thought, "Hang on a minute, they get all the fun – let's take the show on holiday!"'

With special guests and surprises planned, the finale will be everything fans have come to expect from the award-winning show.

But that's not to say that Dec won't miss having his mate Ant by his side...

'Ant makes me laugh and that's what's fun about working with him,' Dec told TV Times in an interview in 2006. 'I don't think I'd have as much fun on my own...' VICTORIA WILSON

Universal is also home to The Wizarding World of Harry Potter, so we're sure there will be some magic involved throughout the show and could they have booked star Daniel Radcliffe for another stint as the Guest Announcer?

FINALE HIGHLIGHTS What else is in store on Saturday?

Villain: Jason Gardiner

SATURDAY KNIGHT TAKEAWAY

In this series' spoof thriller, members of 'The Honoured' were tasked with tracking down kidnappers of well-known celebrities, including national treasure Joanna Lumley.

The lads thought they had their man when Jason Gardiner was unveiled as working for 'The Dishonoured', a group of celebs upset about never being handed honours by the Queen. But Jason revealed that someone else had been pulling the strings... In this final pre-recorded instalment, will Ant and Dec unmask the big baddie behind it all?

IN FOR A CENT

Brace yourselves... Stephen Mulhern has packed the gold lamé jacket for Florida as he hosts a special edition of his popular game In For A Penny – cleverly renamed In For A Cent – where members of the public have to compete in challenges to win a cash prize – so will $1,000 be up for grabs this time?

'We usually give away £1,000 in the UK and it's important to remember that, for a lot of people, that money can help incredibly,' Stephen tells TV Times. 'For somebody who hasn't had a holiday for a long time, that money will help pay for a small break away. When you see the genuine emotion when people win, it's wonderful. I love that I get to change someone's life in a small way.'

But does Stephen mind wearing the sparkly jackets and other costumes that are usually thrust upon him on Takeaway?

'It helps to wear the glitzy jacket rather than just a straight suit,' he says. 'But some of the costumes they've put me in before... I had to wear an Egyptian costume for Ant Vs Dec once!'

INTERVIEW

Time

“It’s going to reveal why Charity
behaves the way
she does”

to speak out

Emmerdale star Emma Atkins on the moment Charity reveals her darkest secret – and why we'll never look at her in the same way again...

SOAP

Emmerdale

MONDAY-FRIDAY / ITV / TIMES VARY

Cast your mind back to the year 2000. Tony Blair was Prime Minister, former Spice Girl Geri Halliwell was riding high in the charts and in the fictional world of Emmerdale village life was shaken up by the arrival of a ballsy blonde called Charity Dingle.

A working girl and petty criminal, Charity pitched up for the funeral of cousin Butch, and soon established herself as a blunt, self-serving schemer, whose bite was even worse than her bark.

VILLAIN OR VICTIM?

'That's a monstrously long time ago!' smiles Emma Atkins, 43, who was in the final year of a performing arts degree course at Salford University when she was cast in the role – beating a certain Suranne Jones in the process.

'I remember when I got the audition, I thought: "I want this job so badly!" But everyone else there had long hair, and I had a short, peroxide cut, so I assumed I was the wild card and had no chance.'

Eighteen years later, Charity has chewed up and spat out a long line of men, and shown she will step over anyone – even her own kids – to get what she wants. But how well do we really know Ms Dingle? This week, a new chapter begins for the fan favourite, and it's set to make us look at her in a whole new light – not as a villain, but as a victim.

It starts when Charity sets eyes on DI Bails, the cop who helped get her sent down in 2015 for perverting the course of justice. Charity's blood runs cold and, in Tuesday's episode, she opens up to partner Vanessa Woodfield about abuse she suffered as a teen, which she has kept buried for almost 30 years.

Ding-dong: Charity turns her notorious temper on her ex Jai back in 2013

SENSITIVE

'When our producer, Iain MacLeod, said we were going to revisit Charity's past – or rather, visit it for the first time – that excited me, because I think it's going to reveal why Charity behaves the way she does,' says Emma.

'What happened to her makes sense to me, and the writer, Maxine Alderton, is brilliant. She knows how to go to a place in someone's past without it seeming corny. It's extremely sensitively written.'

What we'll see on Tuesday is Charity at her most vulnerable.

That proved a huge test for Emma, whose blunt character is renowned for her caustic comebacks and normally has more front than Blackpool. 'It's the most challenging episode I've ever done,' she confesses.

'Charity has this front where she puts on her glad rags and gets behind the Woolpack bar, so to peel the layers off and show a side of shame and guilt... It's so far removed from what I've been doing over the past few years, where I've brought a lot of humour to the show. I wanted to pitch it perfectly, and I worked hard to do it justice.'

PANDORA'S BOX

'You have to dig deep to convey that emotion,' she continues. 'I look at very personal places in my own life. I put my headphones on so that I can zone out from any distraction on set, and that helps me get to where I need to be.'

Charity's revelation is more than just a 'moment', of course. It's the start of a long and emotional journey that's about to send the character into free-fall. After so many years, Pandora's box has been well and truly opened.

'There are some episodes where Charity gets emotional, and other episodes where she withdraws back into herself,' explains Emma. 'That's what Charity does best – when the proverbial hits the fan, she's in denial.'

'It affects her and Vanessa's relationship, because Vanessa thinks, "What do I do with this

Trauma: The past causes trouble for Charity and Vanessa information?" And Charity's like, "You keep it to yourself."

'Meanwhile, Bails is still in her periphery, and we'll see that this is a person who can put the fear into Charity like no one else can.'

FIGHT FOR JUSTICE

But if there's one thing we know about Charity Dingle, it's that she's a survivor. And Emma's hoping that, at some point down the line, her alter-ego will find the strength to fight for justice.

'Charity's in turmoil, because she wants justice, but she knows in order to get it, she's going to have to reveal things that she never wanted to say out loud,' says Emma. 'Deep down, I think she will have to stand up to what she knows is a terrible ordeal.'

And, who knows, maybe, if Charity can find some peace, then her aggression and anger might start to ebb away. That would be nice... wouldn't it?

'It will be interesting to see if she's moved in the sense that she makes positive changes to her personality,' muses Emma. 'But not too many changes, I hope.'

'I love her. She's a pain in the neck, but she's harmless. Well, I say that, but she's not remotely, is she?!' laughs Emma. 'I can't defend her, but I think this story will finally explain why she's such a little tyke.'

INTERVIEW

'I have the odd stop!'

Milo Parker on why he relates to Gerry's troublesome teenage years and getting acting tips from Keeley Hawes...

New boy: Louisa is keen for Gerry to go to school

DRAMA

The Durrells

SUNDAY / ITV / 8PM

Fans of The Durrells will notice that the baby of the family, animal-mad Gerry, is growing up this series.

But while he's showing signs of early teenage rebellion, mum Louisa worries he's missing out on some important parts of childhood, not least of all his studies. His knowledge of flamingos might be second to none, but he isn't learning very much else...

Unsurprisingly, the prospect of swapping nature rambles for homework doesn't fill Gerry with excitement, and this week he falls out with Louisa over her plans to get him into the local school. Who will win out?

Here, Milo Parker, 15, tells TV Times what else is coming up for the youngest Durrell, and the lessons he's learned from co-star Keeley Hawes...

We're seeing Gerry grow up this year. But is he turning into a bit of a tricky teenager?

Well, he's 13 and he's more mature than others his age, because he's been given so much independence. But he's also facing the typical issues that come with entering the teenage years; his hormones mean he's quite snappy and is having arguments with Louisa. She doesn't really understand just how fast Gerry is growing up. To her it doesn't seem that long ago that Gerry was a baby crawling about on the floor. She is struggling to let go, while Gerry doesn't really understand Louisa's point of view. He gets annoyed because he wants more and more independence.

“I can definitely relate to Gerry – I have the same moments with my mum”

You're 15 years old now, so can you identify with Gerry and his adolescent stresses?

I can definitely relate to Gerry, absolutely 100 per cent. I have the same moments with my mum – I have the odd strop! My dad always comes out to Corfu with me, and most of the time he manages not to embarrass me [laughs]. I love him to pieces. I'm so grateful because without him I wouldn't be able to come out and film here. I'm still very much a kid inside – I like playing Xbox and football with my friends.

How does Gerry develop as the series continues?

Louisa attempts to get Gerry into a Greek school this week, but it doesn't go too well, so that's really funny. Gerry also gets his first girlfriend, Galini. He's attracted to her from their first meeting – however, his friend Theo keeps getting in the way, so that leads to a difficult conversation.

You love working with the animals. What were new arrivals the flamingos like this year?

It was very exciting to work with them, but quite scary, too. They're very timid and tame unless they feel they're in danger for some reason, and then they completely freak out! I had a bit of a scare when one of them went a bit crazy. Frank the sloth was a dream to work with, he's very professional, and it's always nice to have scenes with Mossup, who plays Roger the dog – she gives me a big fuss like a best friend, which is very sweet. The pelicans show no emotion at all. They just want their fish!

You're an ambassador for Gerald Durrell's zoo in Jersey – has that brought more exciting opportunities this year?

Yes, I got to meet Sir David Attenborough at an event, which was fantastic! He's an idol of mine, so that was incredible for me. I just love supporting a charity that I'm passionate about; it's an honour to be able to help promote their essential conservation work.

Happy family: Louisa, Gerry and the rest of the clan

Are you starting to get recognised on the street?

I am. I've been stopped for quite a few photos with people, which is strange because I've never had that before. It's crazy. It's all very new to me, but it's fantastic that they enjoy the show. The Durrells has been a fantastic experience with so many positive effects on all of our lives. I genuinely love acting, so I hope I can keep doing it.

Do you ever talk to Keeley Hawes, who plays Louisa, about work and career advice?

Absolutely, yes. I was watching the third series of Line of Duty during filming; we talked about that a lot. It's fantastic to be able to discuss acting and to learn from Keeley. We talk about the actors she's worked with, including some pretty big names. It's amazing to get an insight into what she's done. She's perfect for the role of Louisa.

EMMA BULLMORE

TV TIMES EXTRA ADVENTURE

Look for our Emma alongside Milo and co in this week's episode...

If you watch this week's episode of The Durrells very carefully you might just spot TV Times, dressed up but blending into the background, as we join the hard-working team of supporting artists in a Corfu street scene.

After an early wake-up call, we sit in the make-up chair and Keeley Hawes' stylist puts our hair into hot rollers to create 1930s curls. In the costume tent, there are dresses lined up to choose from, and we pick a navy tea dress, complete with clutch bag and hat, and some low court shoes in which to clip-clop along the streets.

Today Corfu is doubling up as Athens, and we're standing right behind Josh O'Connor (Larry) as the director calls action. Our job is to 'buy' a newspaper from a stand, silently 'chat' to the man behind the counter and then walk away without drawing attention to ourselves. It seems easy, but we're surprisingly nervous about tripping over!

After lots of takes, as the cameras shoot the scene from different angles, we're wilting in the Greek sun and we have to admit we're glad when it's a wrap. Keeley and Josh make this acting lark look so easy – we'll leave it to the professionals...

NEW REALITY
This Time
Next Year
 TUESDAY / ITV / 8PM

The concept of ITV's This Time Next Year, hosted by Davina McCall, is simple.

But the impact of the programme is far reaching... Each episode sees brave souls bare their hearts to Davina and reveal the goals they'd like to accomplish over the course of a year. The thrill for viewers, in this world of instant gratification, is that we don't need to wait 12 months to learn the outcome! Thanks to the magic of television, seemingly moments later, the pledger returns, and it's revealed whether or not they achieved their personal goals...

'I love the magic of This Time Next Year. For viewers watching it only looks like a nanosecond until the person returns looking changed, but it's amazing because it's a year later,' explains Davina, who completed a 500-mile triathlon in seven days for Sport Relief in 2014.

'It's really exciting for all of us who work on it. We love the "This Time" element because you get to hear what people are going to do in the next year. And the "Next Year" bits are also good because we all get to see the results.'

Here Davina, 50, tells TV Times about the new series...

The series opens with a particularly emotional story, what can you tell us about it?

Yes, this is the extremely unusual story of Jayne Hardman. In 2012, her dog bashed into her nose and it sparked a rare autoimmune illness that was dormant in her. Slowly, her nose started to disappear. It's been extremely tough for her. She's ended up staying close to home because of it. She's horrified by her profile, and she doesn't have a sense of smell.

How moving is it when Jayne pledges to get a prosthetic nose?

It's hugely moving. Nose or no nose she's gorgeous, but that's all people can see. She can see when people are talking to her and their eyes drift to her nose. At the same time, she understands people look because it's extraordinary. What a story and what an unbelievable, lovely lady.

We don't have to wait a year to find out what happens – but you do. Do the stories play on your mind?

It's interesting which stories really stick with you. Sometimes it's about the personality of the person and the emotion behind their story. Whether it's someone seeking love or a weight-loss story, the emotion behind it really makes me hope they can do it.

Is it a challenge to look the same for both segments of the show?

It's quite full on! I grow my hair before filming so it can be cut to any length needed. Michael, the hairdresser, takes loads of pictures and then cuts it to the same length. I also have to get the exact same nail varnish colour. We take pictures of it, write it down and put it in a vault for a year, so we don't forget! Things like my shoes and the dress have to be sealed – we don't want moths. Holly Willoughby gets about six or seven dresses when she does Dancing on Ice and I only get one – where's the justice in that?

Can you tell us anything about your other upcoming TV projects?

I just did an amazing reunion for Long Lost Family recently that “I grow my hair before filming so it can be cut to any length needed”

involved a brother and a sister – you'll definitely be crying. The 100K Drop is coming to C4 daytime. We couldn't do the Million but 100K is still a lot of money! I'm also embedding myself in the National Health Service for the 70th Anniversary of the NHS. I'm not great with blood but I'll be doing a live programme from A&E, watching how the medics work. It will be fascinating.

The FINAL judgment

Coaches Olly Murs, Tom Jones, Jennifer Hudson and will.i.am spill the beans on the singing contest's live grand finale...

LAST ONE ENTERTAINMENT

The Voice UK

SATURDAY / ITV / 8.30PM

After singing their hearts out at the blind auditions, battles, knockouts and last week's semi-final, just four singers remain to compete for the title of The Voice UK champion 2018 in the live finale on Saturday night.

With just a few performances standing between them and the chance of bagging a record deal with music giants Polydor, the pressure is on. Watching their every move as always will be coaches Tom Jones, Jennifer Hudson, Olly Murs and will.i.am – but only the viewers will have the power to decide who wins.

TV Times caught up with Tom, Jennifer, Olly and Will to find out all about the big night...

Olly, how are you feeling about being a coach in your first ever live final of The Voice UK?

Olly: I can't wait! The coaches get to perform together as a group again, which is awesome. We all performed Feeling Good on the first show and I've watched it back hundreds of times; I just love it. We also get to do duets with whoever our finalists are, so I'm really excited about all that.

What do you all enjoy about the fact the show is live?

Tom: Well, it is exciting but, because it's live, you've got to watch your Ps and Qs and not swear... like I did last year! I didn't know the camera was on me and I swore. I had to apologise right away. But that's live TV for you.

Jennifer: I love anything that's live, because you know it's real and raw. You experience it as it's happening and I prefer it that way. In fact, that's what I love about The Voice UK versus the US, where I'm also a coach. I love that they just let the cameras roll and catch us being 'us', like at the blind auditions when me and Tom started singing. The US version is slightly more 'managed'.

Will: I like it live, too. I was born live. I just like to be able to improvise and call it as I feel it. I come alive when it's live. And I've always got a whole new bag of competitiveness going on at the final show.

Jennifer: You never know what's gonna happen at the final... but at least now I know I gotta watch Will!

The final four acts, voted through by the public from the semis, won't necessarily include one from each team. How does it feel to know that some of you might not have any acts in the final?

Olly: I'll be devastated if I don't have any singers in the final; one of my acts definitely deserves to be there. There's so much talent on everyone's team, though, so if someone misses out, they miss out. It certainly doesn't mean their career is over.

Tom: Last year, Jennifer had two acts in the final...

Olly: So which coach missed out?

Tom: Gavin Rossdale [the coach Olly replaced in this series].

Olly: Damn, I need to raise my game – I don't want to have the dreaded chair on the right!

Tom: Yeah, your chair is jinxed!

What advice will you give your acts going into the final?

Will: Be relaxed, have fun and don't try too hard. The more natural you can be to connect with the audience, the more joy you're gonna bring to the folks watching at home.

Olly: You've got to live it and enjoy it. When I look back at The X Factor final in 2009, I can't actually remember anything that happened; it's all a blur. But it was horrible – I had no preparation, I was stressed, singing one song after another with all these cameras in my face. So I lost [Olly finished runner-up to Joe McElderry] and I never really enjoyed it. I'd say relax, soak it up and embrace it for what it is, because it will be their biggest moment.

Tom: And learn that song. Get it into your head so you don't have to think about that, just about performing. And it has to be a song that will make the viewers take notice and go: 'Wow, there's the winner!'

Champion: Jennifer Hudson and 2017 winner Mo'Nique

“You never know what’s gonna happen... but at least now I know I gotta watch Will!”

JENNIFER HUDSON

Tom and Jennifer exchange words

Olly, as the new boy on the panel, how much do you want to be the winning mentor this year?

Olly: Honestly, I'd love to win, to copy Jennifer who won in her first year in 2017. It would be great if one of my acts could win, but there is so much talent, so if I don't win, I don't win. Whoever the winner is, I just hope they're the best.

Tom: It would be great if we each had one act in the final.

Jennifer: Yeah, Tom, but I could have two again...

Tom: Hey, you've had your turn!

Jennifer, you won last year with Mo Jamil, who was your guest mentor during the knockouts this series. Are you pleased with how his career is going?

Jennifer: To see him grow and now have a record out is amazing. When we filmed the knockouts, he was shocked to have his own dressing room and I was like: 'You're here, Mo! This is your time.'

Will: Mo is the kind of person who, if he can just sit at the table long enough, in five years he's gonna be one of those artists that will last 15 years. In this business, the quicker you're in, the quicker you're out. Look at the work Jennifer had to do to become J-Hud. This appetite in popular culture to have 'quick results' is bad for the industry. I'm not trying to make excuses for the fact that The Voice UK hasn't produced a big 'star' yet, but it's hard for people who already have record deals to be stars, let alone the singers in this competition.

So, for all the acts in the final, The Voice UK marks the start of their journeys, not the end?

Olly: Absolutely. When I did The X Factor, I saw it as just the first step of a long, long journey. I thought: 'They're taking me to the ocean, now I need to swim.' After the final, I knew I needed to go and find where I needed to go and I never relied on [X Factor boss] Simon Cowell for that. I had to have that desire and belief in myself. All of us judges can only coach these acts up to a certain point, then the rest is up to them.

Judge John Torode on the extraordinary 2018 Finals Week...

THE FINALS COOKERY

MasterChef

MON, WED-FRI / BBC1 / TIMES VARY

the final three! What's stood out is the sheer range of contestants, all from different walks of life. Their varied influences means we've had an incredible mix of food.

It's spatulas at dawn as the five remaining hopefuls enter the MasterChef kitchen for Finals Week. Over a tense four days, they'll be whittled down, with only three places up for grabs in Friday's grand finale. We caught up with judge John Torode, 52, to ask what it takes to be crowned a cookery champion...

How does this year's final compare to previous ones?

I'm not being cryptic when I say how creative things get – someone actually tries to lay an egg!

Talent, flair and skill apart, what are the other traits that make a MasterChef champion?

It's someone who opens their heart and is willing to put their life on a plate. Personality is important too, their MasterChef journey, and the influences they bring with them.

“The lives of the finalists are certainly going to change forever”

What challenges face the finalists?

They cook with some amazing chefs, including Tommy Banks, the youngest chef to earn a Michelin star. He does an incredible thing with a piece of beetroot that gives it the texture and flavour of a beef steak. They also travel to Peru and recreate popular dishes for a group of hungry fisherman.

Which culinary creations have you been dazzled by?

The swan that Nawamin made from coconut, swimming on a lake. The creativity was simply stunning.

Are there any surprises?

I think a lot of people will be surprised by who makes

Were you and fellow judge Gregg Wallace united in your decision of who was crowned champion?

Yes. We very rarely disagree when it comes to the winner. The lives of the finalists are certainly going to change forever. How much depends on them, of course...

She's no Demelza!

Eleanor Tomlinson on how her latest role in an Agatha Christie drama is a far cry from Poldark

DRAMA Ordeal by Innocence

SUNDAY / BBC1 / 9PM

As Demelza in Poldark, Eleanor Tomlinson has faced troubles galore with fortitude and passion, but damaged Mary Durrant, her character in Ordeal by Innocence, couldn't be more different.

'I'm known as Demelza, who is so strong and fiery, so to play the complete opposite is fun, refreshing and challenging because Mary has no strength or fight to her,' says Eleanor, as TV Times catches up with her for an exclusive chat.

Possessive, nervy Mary in BBC1's latest Agatha Christie adaptation, has been left traumatised by the murder of her adoptive mother Rachel Argyll (Anna Chancellor) and the death of her adoptive brother Jack (Anthony Boyle), who was in prison for the crime. She's also horrified at the imminent remarriage of her adoptive father Leo (Bill Nighy), while her own relationship with her bitter husband Philip (Matthew Goode) is full of turmoil.

This week, to add to Mary's woes, her family is torn apart by suspicion because doubts have been raised over Jack's guilt. But who was really responsible for Rachel's death? Here, Eleanor, 25, tells us more and gives us a sneak peek at what's coming up in Poldark...

How do you see Mary?

She's broken and insecure. All she's wanted is to be loved, particularly by her mother, so she's always clawing for attention. She was the first of Rachel and Leo's five children to be adopted and has always vied for the top spot. Each of them has problems relating to the fact they were adopted by a neurotic mother and a bizarre father but Mary has become unhinged from a lack of support. It feels like a very modern story.

How is the family feeling now that a stranger, Dr Calgary (Luke Treadaway), has claimed that Jack was innocent?

They're upset because after Jack's death, there have been a lot of fake alibis and that's destructive for a family who are dealing with loss. So they aren't treating Calgary kindly, but through his persistence they realise there might be truth to it and then they fear what he has to say as cracks show up in the family. There is heartache and heartbreak and everyone becomes a suspect so you're never sure as an audience who has done it. It's creepy, but fun!

Mary isn't treated well by her husband Philip. What's your take on their relationship?

It's unhappy and complicated. Philip lost the use of his legs in an accident, so she has become his carer, which is emasculating for him and he takes that out on her and is abusive. Working with Matthew was lovely though; he's hilarious. We did [2013 BBC1 drama] Death Comes to Pemberley together before, so it was brilliant to work with him again, he's a great actor and such a laugh on set.

What was it like working with the rest of the cast?

It was an honour working with Morven Christie [the Argylls' housekeeper Kirsten Lindstrom] again because we did a Poirot together and she is a brilliant actress who brings a lot to every scene. Anna Chancellor is fabulous too and such a tall, strong woman that we were all on our best behaviour around her because she became that character brilliantly. I've been a fan of hers

Wedding day:
With Philip

Happier times:
Jack, Hester,
Mary and Tina

for a long time. And Bill Nighy is just a dream. He's the biggest legend and nothing like Leo but he brought a bit of Bill Nighy to the role, which was charming.

Have you read a lot of Agatha Christie stories?

I haven't read enough but they are a real form of escapism. They're just very British and fun. People want something that keeps them guessing and on the edge of their seats and that's why her books are so great to adapt.

Did you manage to work out whodunit in this?

No! I was hopeless, I turned the last page of the script and said, 'Oh my goodness!' It's complicated. Viewers will be surprised.

Poldark will be back soon. The last time we saw Demelza, she cheated on Ross (Aidan Turner) with Hugh Armitage (Josh Whitehouse). What's in store?

Demelza and Ross were working on their relationship, so Ross realises the hurt that he caused by his actions [when he cheated on her] but now she's done the same thing, how will he cope and get over his jealousy? Will he be able to do it with the grace that Demelza has or will his arrogance get in the way?

Could you have predicted how popular Poldark would become?

No, I'm amazed. It's fantastic being part of something that people have taken to their hearts, it's a great script, a brilliant cast and crew and it's a lovely job. Demelza is such an amazing character too. She's so inspiring and such a strong woman. Playing her has given me so much more strength myself and there are few literary characters who have that effect. I think that's why people love her, because she's so relatable.

Finally, tell us about your music

I've got an album, Tales from Home, being released in May. Anne Dudley, the Poldark composer, and I have collaborated on it. It features covers of folk songs. My mum [Judith Hibbert] is a professional singer, as is my brother Ross, so a lot of the songs are ones that I grew up hearing them sing. It's very exciting!

My double trouble

Elsie Kelly on playing the Solana’s OAP twin sisters Noreen and Doreen

COMEDY

Benidorm

WEDNESDAY / ITV / 9PM

There are some extraordinary tourists staying at the Solana Hotel, but none come much sillier than OAP Noreen Maltby.

This week in Benidorm, the potty pensioner is holidaying with her daughter Pauline, a recovering alcoholic, but they get a shock when Noreen’s twin sister, Doreen, turns up by the pool.

The arrival of glam Doreen has delighted Elsie Kelly, who plays both sisters in the hit ITV comedy. TV Times spoke to Elsie, 81, to find out more...

What was it like playing Doreen? Is she very different to Noreen?

Yes, they’re identical twins, but Doreen is more upmarket. She’s done better for herself materialistically and married someone with a bit of money. She’s also more outspoken and a bit sharper – I mean you’d have to be sharper than Noreen, wouldn’t you? But the twins are from the same background, so I kept this in mind when playing Doreen.

Doreen is far more glam and racy... and she has a toy boy?

Oh yes, there’s a twist to that! Her toy boy arrives in a later episode, and it’s a real shock. Doreen’s definitely got nicer clothes than Noreen because, as you’ve probably observed, Noreen has absolutely no taste as far as fashion is concerned!

With the magic of TV, Noreen and Doreen appear side by side. Was it tricky to film?

Yes, it was quite strenuous in the heat because there was a lot of changing around of costumes, hair and make-up. There were a few logistics involved, but we got by!

Johnny Vegas, who played Noreen’s son Geoff, isn’t in this series, but do you stay in touch?

There’s a deep friendship between us. I went to Johnny’s lovely wedding a few years ago in Seville. Sadly, Johnny’s father died last year and Johnny asked me to sit with his family at the funeral.

Johnny’s just lovely. He is naughty sometimes, which is endearing.

Do you enjoy a night out with the other cast members?

Yes, but I’m the old lady of the gang so I don’t stay late. We go out for a meal and then some of the youngsters will go into Benidorm’s Old Town afterwards to party, but I’ll always think, ‘There’s a lovely book waiting for me!’

You’ve been in Benidorm from the off. What do you remember about the first series?

I was only meant to be in the show for one episode. They had a great ending for Noreen – she should have died on a lilo and floated around the pool for a couple of days before anybody noticed. But Benidorm’s writer Derren Litten wanted to do more with Noreen and Geoff, so I was saved!

Who inspired you to act?

When I was little, I begged to go to the cinema to see musicals. I loved movies like Carousel. I’ve played a few parts, but I wanted to direct them, too. Recently, I’ve done Annie and Oliver! and I’m directing Sweeney Todd next.

ON LOCATION

Ewe've been framed!

We visit father and son Roger and Robert Nicholson as they prepare their Barnsley farm for live TV...

NEW FACTUAL Springtime on the Farm

MONDAY-FRIDAY / CHANNEL 5 / 8PM

At TV Times, we never miss a chance to meet the cutest four-legged stars on the box, from Doc Martin's dogs to Paul O'Grady's wonderful menagerie.

So imagine our glee as we're about to step into a pen full of three-week-old little Swiss Valais Blacknose lambs, with soft wool as curly as a cockapoo puppy.

While the mummy ewe looks on contentedly, her inquisitive babies gambol over to us, keen to check out the imposters, and to nibble our coats and nuzzle our bags!

The lambs like to be rubbed under their chins, according to father and son Roger and Robert Nicholson, who run Cannon Hall Farm in Barnsley, South Yorkshire.

After gaining their trust, the lambs are even happy to let us cuddle them – we love this job!

We're not just here for hugs, though. The farm, which has been in the Nicholson family since the late 1950s and is open to visits from the public, is actually the filming location for Channel 5's new series Springtime on the Farm – an unofficial cross between Countryfile and Lambing Live.

After introducing us to goats, meerkats and adorable eight-day-old piglets, Roger, 75, and Robert, 49, sit down to share the ups and downs of lambing season and life on the farm.

How are you feeling about the cameras coming in?

Robert: It's added an extra notch of stress, but it keeps us on our toes! We want everything to go smoothly for the show, so we've got an extra 65 pregnant ewes to increase the chance of some lambs being born on the telly. The vast majority are born within a three-week period, from 24 March.

Roger: But it's not guaranteed!

The lambs are so cute! Do you find it difficult not to get attached?

Roger: They're like your babies while you're looking after them, but they forget you when they grow up. Last year, one lamb was really persistent with me.

We called him Young Roger. I bottle-fed him and he was very loyal to me, but now he doesn't even look at me!

The lambing season must be exhausting...

Robert: We get some extra help in at Easter, but I get up around 3am and get to bed at 9pm...

Roger: He gets up first, then I wake up around 6am. I'll check to make sure everything's okay – you don't want lambs being born in the cold; you need to get them under a lamp to warm up. Then you start to feed everything that needs feeding and the rest of the day is taken up by moving sheep from pen to pen. We'll go in at teatime and I come out again about 9pm till midnight.

Robert: That's why he always falls asleep in the bath and then wakes up in cold water!

Has the late snow been difficult to deal with this year?

Robert: It's the worst weather we've had in recent times. That cold wind threw more challenges at us than anything else I can remember over the years. We need the ewes to hang onto their lambs for as long as possible, until the weather warms up a bit.

Roger: The grass wasn't growing so it wasn't there for them to turn out onto. We had to bring them back to the farm so they were comfortable. Farming can look pretty bleak sometimes, but a couple of days of nice weather and things are entirely different.

Do you still find it exciting to see new lambs being born?

Roger: Oh yes! Even though we're so used to it, every new birth is something you look forward to. When I go up at night to feed all of the lambs, I take twice as long as I should do because it's just fun to stand and watch them.

Robert: Now he's got a phone, he photographs them, too!

'EVERY LAMB IS A MIRACLE'

Adam Henson on celebrating British farming...

Farmer and Countryfile reporter Adam Henson presents alongside JLS singer JB Gill, ex-Emmerdale star Kelvin Fletcher and Springwatch: Unsprung's Lindsey Chapman. Here, Adam tells TV Times what we can look forward to...

Is the show similar to Lambing Live, which you also hosted?

There's a lot more to this series. Lambing Live was focused on sheep, but this is a big celebration of British farming. We look at piglets, chicks and sheepdog trials, too. As a farmer, Spring is my favourite time of year.

Are you nervous there'll be no lambs born on TV?

We'll have pre-recorded footage ready, just in case! But we'll be broadcasting in a studio next door to the lambing shed, hoping to see the animals giving birth. Every lamb is a miracle.

Are the lambs your favourite animals on the farm?

The Highland cattle are gorgeous; their calves are like teddy bears, and the piglets are tremendous, too. You do have a bond. When they finally go for slaughter, it's not without emotion on my part.

'I HID FROM A GOAT!'

Ex-Emmerdale star Kelvin Fletcher on his unpredictable new job...

After playing farmer Andy Sugden for two decades, Kelvin tells TV Times how real life compares...

Did your time in Emmerdale teach you any lambing skills?

I think a lot of people assume I know a lot, but actually I've just been leading you all on for 20 years! I know very little. I was so excited when they asked me to take part, though.

Which animals did you like the most?

The sheepdogs' training was great. They were all very affectionate, just like pets, but they're essential to the farm.

Did any animals scare you?

I met a huge billy goat. When I saw him for the first time in the field, I almost hid behind the farmer. I couldn't get over the sheer size of him!

How squeamish are you? Will you be able to get stuck in?

I could have seen a little goat kid being born, but I was worried that I'd start crying. When my daughter was born, I was overwhelmed and emotional. So I steered clear, just in case I was caught blubbing on camera!

Marilyn and me

Co-star James Purefoy on Gemma Arterton's portrayal of the screen icon

NEW COMEDY Urban Myths

THURSDAY / SKY ARTS / 9PM

The shooting of 1959's classic movie comedy Some Like It Hot wasn't a barrel of laughs for its director, Billy Wilder.

The first episode in a new run of Urban Myths dramatises the fraught relationship between Billy (James Purefoy) and his star, Marilyn Monroe (Gemma Arterton). Here, James, 53, tells TV Times more...

What's the story? There's a scene where Marilyn knocks on a door and says, 'It's me, Sugar.' She had to do it 47 times because she was drinking and taking prescription drugs. Poor Gemma had to film so many different versions of it, but she was so funny.

What's Billy's reaction? He's exasperated. Marilyn also has her acting coach, and her husband, Arthur Miller, sticking their oar in. Co-stars Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon try to help, but it's Billy who eventually makes her feel confident.

Why do you think Some Like It Hot has endured? It has a wonderful naivety that delights us as an audience. Re-watching it reminded me how hilariously funny it is.

What do you like about Urban Myths? They're really clever. They're based on a kernel of fact, which is developed into an imaginative, bite-sized story.

What other stories are coming up? We have Salvador Dalí [David Suchet] meeting Alice Cooper [Noel Fielding], and Johnny Cash [Frank Skinner] battling an ostrich. Who wouldn't want to see that?

Robert Preston's spent practically every spare minute training for the boxing match, and when he gets into the ring to fight Zeedan, fiancée Michelle's not the only one impressed by his buff body.

He catches the eye of a female spectator, who later comes into the Bistro to ask if he'll pose for a charity calendar. Robert's in a good mood at the time because he and Michelle have just won some money in a competition, and he doesn't take too much persuading to turn model for the day.

But when he finds out that the calendar is to raise money for a cancer charity, he's suddenly not so keen – despite having had the disease himself. Just why has the chef turned cold?

“This is one of the darkest places David has been in”

We've lost count of the number of times Gary Windass has ended up in Weatherfield General. At this rate, he should have his own wing. He's there again this week and it's all thanks to David Platt, who gives him the mother of all beatings at the charity boxing match.

David withdrew from the event a few weeks ago due to his epilepsy, but when Tyrone pulls out at the last minute, David tells his rapist, Josh – who has organised the fundraising bout – that he'll take Ty's place.

'Josh loses his rag,' says Ryan Clayton, who plays him. 'He doesn't want David anywhere near this event, epilepsy or no epilepsy. He worries that David will tell someone what happened, and he is always trying not to let his mask slip.'

As the evening gets underway, it looks like David has heeded Josh's words. But then he barges into the ring and insists on fighting Gary. Weeks of tension and turmoil come to the fore as he rains blow after blow on his opponent, knocking him cold.

Bedside manner: Sarah comforts Gary in hospital

'This is one of the darkest places David has been in,' adds Jack P Shepherd, who plays the tormented hairdresser. 'He was massively affected by Kylie's death, but everyone knew about that and was looking out for him; it wasn't a secret. With the rape, he has no outlet.'

Gary's rushed to hospital, where doctors reveal he has a bleed on the brain, and David is then arrested. Solicitor Imran advises him to tell the cops that he didn't understand the rules of boxing – but will that be enough to get his client off a potential murder charge?

Back on the cobbles, Zeedan is busy clearing up when he comes across a steroid needle – sparking false rumours that David is hooked on steroids.

Meanwhile, appalled by her brother's behaviour, Sarah announces that she's moving out of No.8. She's not the only one making tracks, as David later discovers that Josh has packed in his job at the garage.

Storming round to his attacker's flat, David tells Josh that he's going to report him to the police. But Josh just sneers at him, confident that he won't say a thing. Will David pluck up the courage to prove him wrong?

Vanessa is worried by Charity's behaviour

Charity's past revealed...

The ruthless Dingle opens up to Vanessa about a dark secret

Troublemaker Charity Dingle has led a colourful life since arriving in Emmerdale in 2000 – notching up three marriages, two births and a stint in prison, and collecting a fair few enemies along the way.

But what of her life before she arrived in the Yorkshire village? Well, this week, we're about to find out more, and it's set to make us look at the feisty blonde in a whole new light. It turns out that The Woolpack co-owner has been

“There was serious abuse that she went through when she was 14” harbouring a dark secret for years, and not even her closest family members know the truth.

Creepy Phil's court case is the catalyst for Charity's revelation.

Phil, in case you need reminding, tried to extort money out of Tracy Metcalfe, to keep quiet about the fact he had paid her for sex back in the day. Plucky Tracy reported him to the police, and now Phil's been done for blackmail.

Not everyone is as pleased as Trace that she had the courage to come forward. Ahead of Phil's sentencing, she receives some hate mail. Then, when she nips out to get wine during a birthday meal for Frank, she catches a girl, Lara, writing an abusive message outside Farrers Barn.

The incidents leave Tracy understandably nervous as she later heads off to see Phil get his just deserts – prompting Charity to offer to tag along as moral support. It's a rare moment of warmth from Charity, but over at the court, she suddenly turns cold.

'Her past comes back to haunt her, through Tracy,' reveals Emma Atkins, who plays her. 'It involves the character of DI Bails – there is ominous history between them.'

Vanessa is flummoxed and demands answers from her girlfriend, who then opens up about a dark secret.

'I think for the first time ever, we'll see why Charity is as she is,' adds Emma. 'It may explain why she has decided that being in love with a woman is a much less complicated situation. There was serious abuse of some kind she went through at 14.'

Will Vanessa offer Charity the support that she needs? And if she does, will Charity accept it?

It's not easy having an affair with Bob Hope – you've got to put up with his bad jokes for a start. As Laurel Thomas has fast discovered, there's also the lies, the guilt, and the constant fear they'll be found out. So far, she's been fairly confident that she and Bob have kept things under wraps, but now she worries that his other half, Brenda, has rumbled them – and the stress leads her to dig out the whisky.

At the start of the week, Laurel voices her concerns to Bob, who tentatively probes his fiancée to find out if she has, indeed, found out about their affair. Inside, Brenda's raging, but on the surface, she's as cool as a cucumber and plays dumb.

It's enough to convince Bob that he has nothing to worry about, and he tells Laurel she's imagining things. Laurel's stung and orders her lover to leave, before eyeing up the booze. The recovering alcoholic has been sober for almost two years now, but is she about to fall off the wagon?

'Alcohol is always the devil on her shoulder,' says Charlotte Bellamy, who plays Bob's other woman. 'In times of immense stress, there's always going to be that question of whether she's going to turn to the bottle.'

Sneaky: Can Bob and Laurel keep their secret?

Struggling: Laurel considers drinking again

Back on the booze?

Laurel's tempted to drink as she fears Brenda knows about her and Bob...

Laurel isn't imagining things at all, and she learns that for herself when she later gets a visit from the police. They've done some inquiries into her stolen credit card, and discovered that the purchases made on it were delivered to the cafe.

The penny drops that Brenda was the thief, and she must have found out about Bob's affair.

Will Laurel tell the police what she knows? Or will she just confront her love rival? And if so, how will Brenda react?

Ross the addict?

There's one thing on Ross' mind this week – and it isn't his scar. He's become dependent on painkillers following his recent skin graft, and is tetchy and irritable without them. Visiting Dr Cavanagh, he insists he needs some more, and the GP reluctantly gives him another week's worth.

But when Rhona realises how many he's necked in just a matter of days, she's instantly concerned – after all, she's had her own problems in that department. She swipes the rest of his pills before he can do any more damage. But can she persuade him to get help?

Worry: Rhona realises Ross has a problem

Killer! Will Ryan get away?

HOLLYOAKS

Ryan's been offered a job in Brazil, and is desperate to jet off with Ste and the kids before his deadly secret – that he murdered Amy – is exposed. But then Ste visits Tegan in hospital following her seizure, and finds her communication device contains a shock message. At first, he refuses to believe it, but then Louis encourages Tegan to use her finger to develop the communication, and Ste realises the awful truth. Will Ryan get his comeuppance?

Also, Kyle tells Sami that he wants out of his revenge plan against James, and Mandy is frosty towards Darren when she returns from Florida with Luke.

Evidence: Daniel tries to help

DOCTORS

Daniel's at the family court for the case of transgender teen Joni, whose mother, Lou, wants permission to take her to America for treatment. Daniel tells the court that he believes Joni's recent fainting episodes could be due to mental distress brought on by Lou. When the judge denies the petition, Joni makes an impassioned speech about how she identifies as a girl – but will it be enough to change the judge's mind?

Elsewhere, a hooded figure later breaks into the surgery and sets fire to the place. Who is it?

Mel tries to stop Phil when he shows up with a bat

Where's Hunter?

What has Hunter overheard?

Phil's on the warpath after discovering that Mel's lad slept with Louise

Now this is a bit more like the Phil Mitchell we know and love! Sixteen months since he was rescued from the jaws of death by a liver transplant, the Don Corleone of Albert Square proves he's well and truly back to his old self, as he marches over to E20, wielding a baseball bat.

Hunter is the man – or rather boy – in his sights. The teen has riled Phil by not only sleeping with his daughter, Louise, but making sure the liaison was captured on the club's CCTV system for Phil to see in all its glorious Technicolor. Has the lad got a death wish?

Sharon tries to calm her husband down, but he's in no mood to talk things through over a cup of camomile tea, and shows her the footage of Hunter winking at the camera. As he continues his mission, Shazzer finds Hunter and Louise and takes them back to the Mitchell gaff where, alone with Hunter, she confronts him about being a dirty dog, and tells him never to disrespect Louise again.

Mel is all too aware that Phil is baying for her son's blood. Desperate to save her beloved boy from a beating, she stops Phil in his tracks, and reminds him of their history – the pair, you may recall, had a Christmas Day romp, back in 2000. As Mel flutters her sizeable eyelashes, Phil can't resist her charms, and moves in for a kiss. Will Mel threaten to reveal all to his missus?

Louise is grounded for letting Hunter have his wicked way, but Sharon soon tires of playing prison guard. And when Hunter calls by, she takes the youngsters to the club to apologise to Phil, hoping that can be an end to the matter.

They arrive just in time for Hunter to overhear Mel and Phil talking about their past. He had no idea that his muvva had 'been there' with his girlfriend's old man, and he's especially hurt that Mel betrayed his father, Steve, in the process.

Despite his discovery, Hunter apologises to Phil – but Phil snaps and warns him to stay away from Louise. Will the teen do as he's told?

Kim panics when she discovers her family are about to be evicted

You've got to love Kim Fox-Hubbard. She and Vincent haven't got a pot to do the proverbial in, but she still can't bring herself to get her hands dirty. She's shelling out money they don't have on cleaners – in this case, Kat and her merry band of Slater scrubbers.

Kim's thrilled that she doesn't have to stick on a pair of marigolds herself, but it doesn't take long for her good mood to be shattered. While Kat and co. are hard at work, they find a letter which they pass on to her – revealing that the Hubbards are due to be evicted.

Kim's beside herself, but Vincent assures her he has a plan to save their home. What's he going to do – rob a bank? Whatever it is, it's on the dodgy side, because he waits until his missus has gone out before he springs into action...

When Kim returns, she has a plan of her own. She tells her husband that she's going to apply for a full-time job. Does she realise that this usually involves working Homeless Hubbards!

40-hours a week, with no afternoons off for shopping?

Vincent insists she needn't do that, and later puts his car on the market. But disaster strikes. Another car crashes into his, then drives off. And guess what – Vincent doesn't have any insurance.

Feeling the pressure, he goes and asks Phil for help, but that goes down like a fillet steak in a vegetarian restaurant – leaving poor Vincent considering taking some potentially dangerous action. Will he return to his old 'job' as a graaaas?

Woody's back, but Whit's not too pleased!

I still love you

Four months after Woody Woodward left Whitney Carter in the lurch and upped sticks to Spain without her, the beefy bartender returns to Walford this week. Whitney's stunned, and when he tells her he still loves her, she refuses to fall for his patter and storms off.

It looks like her independent woman routine is wearing off when she later suggests they go into town to talk things through, and Linda Carter is worried that her former employee is going to ruin her blossoming relationship with Halfwit. Can she make Whit see sense?

Susan is shocked by Karl's revelation

NEIGHBOURS

Having just about survived Izzy's return, the Kennedys face another crisis this week when Karl gets worrying news. Tests as part of his medical trial reveal he's got a blood clot, which could potentially turn into a life-threatening embolism.

Not wanting to worry his wife, the distressed doc keeps it to himself, but is forced to confess when he cuts himself and admits he's on meds. Susan reels at her hubby's deception, but how can Karl combat his condition?

Elsewhere, Sonya returns and stuns Toadie by announcing she wants to track down Andrea, while Paul catches up with Jane and is amused to find she's turned into a young Mrs Mangel!

David threatens Jasmine

HOME & AWAY

Jasmine came to Summer Bay to escape her stalker – and now he's tracked her down! Terrified by her deluded ex David, jittery Jasmine phones Leah for help, but her tormentor kills the call.

Demanding they set off for the city together, Jasmine manages to persuade him to return the van keys to Leah. Clever Leah clocks her friend is in danger and tries to stop them leaving, but dangerous David cottons on and holds Jasmine, Leah and Ryder hostage. Will anyone come to their rescue?

PERIOD DRAMA ▶ This is arguably Gwyneth Paltrow's finest hour (complete with perfect period English accent) to date, as Jane Austen's appealingly infuriating heroine Emma Woodhouse, the woman who interferes with the love lives of everyone around her but doesn't understand her own heart. We know, of course, that she's going to get together with the all-wise hero Mr Knightley in the last reel because he's played by the dashing Jeremy Northam! With these two splendid performances, you wouldn't think there'd still be room in this stunning Regency romance for Greta Scacchi, Toni Collette, Phyllida Law and Juliet Stevenson, but there is.

PREMIERE FANTASY ▶

Acting as both prequel and sequel to 2012's fairytale fantasy Snow White and the Huntsman, this new adventure gives Charlize Theron's wicked queen less to do. CRIME BIOPIC ▶ Tom Hardy takes on the dual roles of East End gangster twins Ronnie and Reggie Kray in this brazen crime biopic. The film takes an unashamedly mythic approach to the brothers' exploits as they blaze their way across Swinging Sixties London, which is fine when it comes to showing the Krays carving out their underworld territory, but less successful when it comes to conveying what made them tick. Hardy is terrific, however, whether conveying slick Reggie's swagger or psychopathic Ronnie's menacing volatility. Dir: Brian Helgeland 2015, 18, 155min

Whose act will come out on top?

The Voice UK: Final

● ENTERTAINMENT / 8.30pm / ITV

LIVE After singing their hearts out at the blind auditions, Battles, Knockouts and last week's semi-final, just four singers remain to compete for the title of The Voice UK champion 2018 in tonight's live final. Watching their every move as always will be the four coaches – Olly Murs, Tom Jones, Jennifer Hudson and will.i.am – who will each duet with their finalists and treat us to another special group performance on the night. And again, as in last week's semi, it's the viewers' votes that count – and only they have the power to decide who is the winner. But which one of the four is going to come out on top and bag that all-important record deal? ★★★★★ VW

● DRAMA / 9.10pm / BBC1

LAST ONE 'A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse!' OK, that's from the wrong story, but Richard III's cry fits perfectly well with what happens to precipitate the fall of Troy. Tired of keeping up the siege, the Greeks have seemingly left their beach camp and sailed back to Sparta. The Trojans are shocked but mighty relieved. The Greeks, however, have taken one last throw of the dice, by building a huge wooden horse to leave as an offering to the Greek sea god Poseidon, apparently full of grain and other foods. Curious, the hungry Trojans take it into their city to feast on its goodies and celebrate the end of the war. But the horse also contains a very nasty surprise, which has terrible consequences for all in Troy... ★★★★★ NC

Sunday Highlights

SUNDAY 8 April

Margo and Prince Jeejeebuoy shoot the breeze

The Durrells

● DRAMA / 8pm / ITV

It's a crowded house tonight, as Larry forces Louisa to take in two of his friends – delightful foreign dignitary Prince Jeejeebuoy (Tanmay Dhanania, Indian Summers) and tedious local drunk Captain Creech (James Cosmo). At least it's an excuse to get the fizz out, and Louisa finds that hosting is much less stressful after a couple of drinks. But what will happen when Spiro comes to pick her up for an interview at Gerry's potential new school, and she's already a bit worse for wear? Meanwhile, Leslie is plunged into a moral dilemma as he tries to be friends with Daphne, and the ever impulsive Larry makes the mistake of buying a boat that he doesn't know how to sail... ★★★★★ EB

● 'I have the odd strop!' See page 10

Tango-tastic: Flavia and Vincent

The Generation Game

● GAME SHOW / 8pm / BBC1

LAST ONE They may have left Bake Off behind, but Mel and Sue still can't resist a good cake challenge. Tonight, the teams must grab their piping bags and give us their best decorations, as well as crafting balloon animals and 'acting' in a sketch with Danny Dyer. Well, if the format ain't broke, don't fix it! But tonight's highlight is a stunning performance from former Strictly pros Vincent and Flavia. The contestants' attempts to copy the routine are predictably less impressive... ★★★ EB

On the wing: Willian

Premier League

● FOOTBALL / 4.15pm / Sky Sports Premier League

LIVE Can Chelsea edge into the top four?

There have been some inconsistent performances recently, but one saving grace has been Willian, the attacking midfielder who gives Chelsea a drive they often lack without him. Today's derby against West Ham (k-o 4.30pm) won't be easy, because the Hammers are in a relegation scrap... ★★★ NP

Mari and Dr Lydia share a moment

The Good Karma Hospital

● DRAMA / 9pm / ITV

Viewers might come to The Good Karma Hospital for the wonderful scenery, but they stay for the moving storylines – and tonight's instalment certainly doesn't disappoint. On the remote tea plantation, Ruby is still reeling from the news that her long-lost uncle is in fact her father, and begins asking some difficult questions.

Meanwhile, back in Barco, there's good news for Dr Ram – but this week's episode belongs to Mari, who has her hopes of being a mum raised following a chance meeting with an old friend. The nurse has often lurked in the background, but takes the lead in a tale guaranteed to melt the hardest heart. ★★★★★ SMA

Go Lewis!

Bahrain GP

● F1 / from 2.30pm / Sky Sports F1/C4

LIVE Lewis Hamilton may have lost out in the Australian Grand Prix, but he won't be too worried – he began last season in a very wobbly fashion and still became champion. This time it was a software glitch that lost Hamilton the race to Sebastian Vettel – will he have a better start in today's race in Bahrain (start-time 4.10pm)? He lost to Vettel on this track last year... ★★★★★ NP

Mickey Argyll has words with Calgary

Ordeal by Innocence

Calgary tries to prove Jack's innocence – but what will it mean for the Argylls?

● DRAMA / 9pm / BBC1

As the splendidly sinister thriller continues, Dr Calgary's own disturbing past gradually comes to light, but, haunted by the night he met Jack, the fragile scientist's determination to prove the young man's innocence is undiminished. Although the Argyll family is equally dogged in their mission to get Calgary out of their lives for good, the pressure is getting to them now as they are forced to face up to the fact that one of them is a killer. Tina and Hester are both at breaking point and Mary is even more jittery than usual while her vile husband, Philip, is having a whale of a time as he delights in winding up everyone in the household. But further danger is not far away... ★★★★★ CC

● 'She's no Demelza!' See page 16

Disgraced surgeon
Hugh Knight

The Heart Guy

● DRAMA / 8pm / Drama

NEW This Australian medical drama centres on Sydney heart surgeon Dr Hugh Knight (Roger Corser), who is called before a disciplinary board for his 'excesses'. Demoted, he's sent to work as a GP in his childhood town, where he's awkwardly reunited with his eccentric folks and his ex-girlfriend, Charlie, who's now married to his brother. But Hugh soon discovers that life in the cottage hospital is far from dull... ★★★★★ MC

Helen and Joan in Jerusalem's Church of the Holy Sepulchre

Jesus' Female Disciples...

● DOCUMENTARY / 8pm / C4

NEW ...The New Evidence. Bible experts Professors Helen Bond and Joan Taylor present a bold new view of the origins of Christianity, arguing that instead of being sidelined by men, women were preaching, healing, baptising and even financing the new faith. But if that's true, why has their role been wiped from history? ★★★★★ JL

ALSO ON...

Big Painting Challenge

● ART / 6pm / BBC1

As the competition continues, a pair of lively dogs called Herbert and Nutmeg are today's 'objets d'art'. Painting them should be easy peasy! ★★★★★

The Masters

● GOLF / from 6pm / Sky Sports Golf/BBC2

LIVE Four days of action conclude in Augusta. Who will champion Sergio Garcia be passing the Green Jacket on to? ★★★★★

The Olivier Awards

● AWARDS / 10.20pm / ITV

NEW Catherine Tate hosts the theatre awards ceremony from the Royal Albert Hall. ★★★★★

Springtime on the Farm

● RURAL / 8pm / C5

LIVE The BBC's Lambing Live has a new rival, as presenter Adam Henson moves over to C5 with a week of live programmes filmed at family-run Cannon Hall Farm in Yorkshire. Joined by former Emmerdale star Kelvin Fletcher, JLS singer-turned-farmer JB Gill and presenter Lindsey Chapman, Adam will be monitoring springtime activity on the farm, waiting for baby animals to arrive and meeting some adorable new friends, from piglets to meerkats. Nature's a cruel and unpredictable mistress, but with any luck there'll be some births across the week and some teeny tiny new lambs to coo over from your sofa. What could be more delightful? ★★★★★ EB

● Ewe've been framed: see page 20

Leila's virtual self begins to get the upper hand

Kiss Me First

● DRAMA / 10pm / C4

This intriguing thriller is ramping up the tension nicely as Leila becomes more involved in and fascinated by events in the seemingly idyllic online world of Red Pill. But an odd disappearance gives her pause for thought... Meanwhile, as more of Leila's harrowing history comes to light, the troubles of her mysterious new pal Tess are also coming to the fore, including her difficult relationship with mum Marion (Pooky Quesnel). Leila tries to help, but has she bitten off more than she can chew? ★★★★★ CC

Dark days for Marcella

Marcella

● DRAMA / 9pm / ITV

LAST ONE In a final episode delivering plenty of bombshells, Marcella finds herself in a desperate race to catch Jane Colletti before the crazed midwife harms her son... Perhaps the mystery deserves a bigger pay-off, but this closing chapter paves the way for an inevitable third series, in which Marcella looks set to become darker than we thought possible. ★★★★★ SMA

It's the survival of the fittest for these castaways

The Island with Bear Grylls

● REALITY / 9pm / C4

The two camps are split between rich and poor and living at opposite ends of the same beach. For both teams the reality of surviving really hits home. Heavy rain puts the fires out and cracks appear as everyone gets tired, cold and hungry. In the 'poor' team Phil faces a mutiny, with kindly nurse Laura being voted the new leader. In the

'posh' team medic James, who admits he struggles to get on with people in the real world, starts to irritate everyone, leaving him isolated. Vegetarian Erance goes against his beliefs to help the team, which makes him question his reasons for being there, and Laura and Phil struggle with the work ethic of their teammates. ★★★ JL

Brrr, it's Richard and Fay

Travel Man

● TRAVEL / 8.30pm / C4

Richard Ayoade's companion for this week's manic mini-break is Cold Feet star Fay Ripley, who joins him on a trip to Oslo, Norway. With the temperature a nippy -12°C, they start as they mean to go on with a visit to the Korketrekkeren or Corkscrew, which is the bobsleigh track that was built for the 1952 Winter Olympics, but is now a super-fast and fun toboggan run. ★★★★★ JL

A group of modern-day Brits take on the mantle of Churchill's secret agents

● REALITY / 9pm / BBC2

NEW In the darkest days of World War Two, when invasion by the Nazis looked inevitable, Winston Churchill created a covert organisation to operate behind enemy lines in a bid to 'set fire to mainland Europe'. The Special Operations Executive (SOE) drew recruits from all walks of society, including women and homosexuals, to fight a secret and deadly war against Hitler's forces. But will a group of modern-day Brits have what it takes to follow in their footsteps? In this week's first episode, 14 members of the public with particular skills face the first stage of a gruelling examination that will push them to their mental and physical limits. ★★★★★ SMA

Day

Historical hijinks with Tom Rosenthal and
Robert Lindsay

Plebs

● COMEDY / from 10pm / ITV2

NEW It's out with the old and in with the new as Plebs returns with a double-bill. Regular Stylax (Joel Fry) exits dramatically while cheerful newbie Jason (Jonathan Pointing) enters. In the opener, Robert Lindsay facilitates the cast change as crooked property developer Crassus. He gives Marcus (Tom Rosenthal), Grumio (Ryan Sampson) and Jason a public toilet, which they turn into a wine bar... obviously! ★★★★★ ER

Casey Affleck is a cop in trouble

Triple 9

● FILM / 9pm / Film4

PREMIERE An Atlanta-set, down 'n' dirty crime thriller headed up by Casey Affleck as a decent cop unwittingly part of a deadly heist. Woody Harrelson plays his uncle, Chiwetel Ejiofor's in charge of the criminal gang, which includes Anthony Mackie, Norman Reedus and Aaron Paul, but his leash is being pulled by Russian-Israeli mob queen Kate Winslet. That's some cast! A tense, taut thriller. ★★★★★ NP

ALSO ON...

MasterChef: The Finals

● FOOD / 9pm / BBC1

Five become four tonight as the final week kicks off. Continues Wednesday and Thursday, with the grand final on Friday. ★★★★★

Escape to the Chateau: DIY

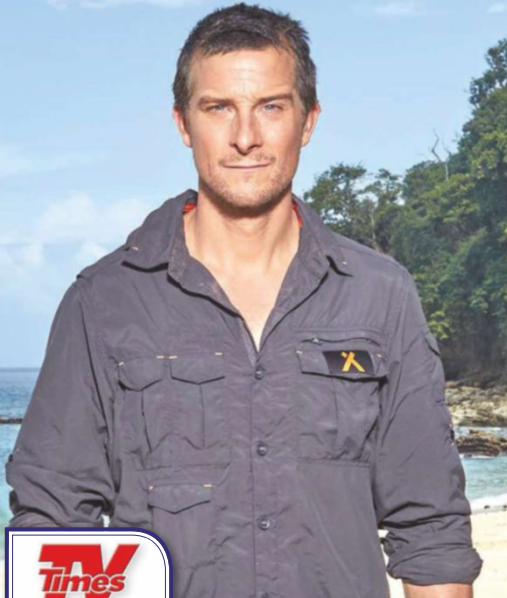

● PROPERTY / 4pm / C4

NEW Spin-off weekday show, with British families following in Dick and Angel Strawbridge's footsteps to do up French castles. ★★★★★

Dad Mark and sons knuckle down

Class of Mum and Dad

● DOCUMENTARY / 8pm / C4

NEW In a brave move a group of mums and dads are going back to school to find out the hard way what primary education is like today. This three-part series sees them join a new Year 6 class at Blackrod Primary, near Bolton, where they're expected to do everything their own children do – including sit SAT exams, wear school uniform and tuck into school dinners. It's not long before mum Julia is sobbing in the toilets over a difficult maths paper, dad Jonny is complaining that there are fewer rules in prison and 52-year-old Mark is reliving his hatred of PE. The result is an eye-opening and surprisingly moving look at what really goes on in our children's schools... ★★★★★ HD

Philomena's not sure about Francis Drake

Cunk on Britain

● COMEDY / 10pm / BBC2

Diane Morgan's glorious comic character Philomena Cunk has another hilarious crack at British history, this week starting with a look at 'King Henry of Eight' and his 'chronic wife addiction'. She also wonders whether 'will.i.am Shakespeare' would have made a good TV writer, muses on 'Vegan Queen' Elizabeth I's role as 'the season finale of the Tudors' and baffles historians with surreal questions on Francis Drake, the Great Fire of London and the death of 'Horror-show Nelson'. ★★★★★ EP

Mark Evans gets on board

My Floating Home

● PROPERTY / 9pm / More4

NEW The watery Grand Designs returns for a second series about people who prefer the life aquatic. Mark Evans kicks off with a visit to Gerald Pragnell, whose fabulous (well, that's the idea) futuristic fibreglass home on the River Itchen is being designed and built by his son, Aidan. But, as Mark finds out, all is not plain sailing. ★★★★★ SM

Intern Devon glazes over as resident Conrad bangs on

The Resident

● DRAMA / 9pm / Universal

NEW The Good Wife's Matt Czuchy takes the title role of third-year hospital resident Dr Conrad Hawkins in this US medical drama. Conrad is brilliant but also cocky and rude. His brash ways don't endear him to idealistic intern Devon Pravesh (Manish Dayal), but Conrad has bigger concerns. He wants arrogant chief of surgery Randolph Bell (Bruce Greenwood) to admit he's lost his touch and is killing patients. The Resident is not as hard-hitting as the 2004 British medical series Bodies, but it has a dark edge and a very watchable cast, which includes Revenge's Emily Van Camp as head nurse Nic Nevin. ★★★★★ JE

On the case: Marcia

Marcia Clark Investigates

● DOCUMENTARY / 9pm / CI

NEW Marcia Clark, prosecutor on the OJ Simpson trial, presents this series on controversial American cases, beginning with the disappearance of Stacy Peterson, 23, in October 2007. Stacy was the fourth wife of Chicago cop Drew Peterson, who was jailed for the murder of his third wife in 2013. The case remains unsolved... ★★★★★ MC

Inspirational people set out on journeys to change their lives

● REAL LIFE / 8pm / ITV

NEW Davina McCall's feel-good show returns with extraordinary people pledging to change their lives by 'this time next year'. Fortunately, we don't have to wait 12 months to discover if they achieve their goals, as the programme immediately leaps forward 12 months! Tonight, can modern medicine help ill Jayne acquire a prosthetic nose? Will mother and daughter Nichole and Laura manage to shed 15 stone between them? Meanwhile, parents Charlotte and Nathan hope deaf baby daughter Olivia will hear them one day soon... Energetic and empathetic by turns, Davina effortlessly stitches together the Befores and Afters in this sincere, heart-warming series. ★★★★★ ER

This Time Next Year

Crunch time for
Marie and Greg

Come Home

● DRAMA / 9pm / BBC1

LAST ONE As this hard-hitting drama concludes, battle lines are being drawn. Marie wants to fight for custody and get her kids back. But then there's that secret, isn't there? If Marie goes to court, will she have to reveal the truth about Laura's real father? As you can imagine, the hearing is brutal with every bad decision dragged up. A tough watch at times, but it makes you think about life's complications and cruelties. ★★★★★ JL

John Prescott
helps pack chocolates

Made in Yorkshire

● DOCUMENTARY / 9pm / C5

NEW People often associate Yorkshire with rolling countryside, yet there's another side to the region as John Prescott finds in this two-part series. The former Deputy Prime Minister visits the county's rural factories – makers of sausages, chocolates, cheese, and pork pies – to learn how family firms grew from humble roots. No stranger to factory visits, John is keen to get hands-on, sometimes to the workers' bemusement. ★★★★★ SMA

Sister act:
Noreen
and Doreen

Benidorm

● COMEDY / 9pm / ITV

In a feverishly nutty episode, Monty realises he might have made a mistake in hiring Sammy 'Get Off My Grass!' Valentine (Shane Richie) as the Solana's next big entertainment act. He's just about to tell him that the gig is off when he has a change of heart. Maybe Sammy isn't so washed up after all? Elsewhere, Robert decides he can't live without the love of his life Cyd and races to the airport to confront her over-bearing father, Franco (Gary Oliver) as he flies in. And while Jacqueline recognises Dennis and Nigel (Gareth Hale and Norman Pace) as the police officers who investigated her late husband for fraud, Noreen's twin sister Doreen turns up to meet her loaded toy boy! ★★ ★ JL

● My double trouble: see page 19

Bettany Hughes
tells the story of the party god

Bacchus Uncovered

● DOCUMENTARY / 9pm / BBC4

NEW Historian Bettany Hughes presents this fascinating look at the ancient deity Bacchus.

The god of wine and fertility, Bacchus has long embodied the battle between chaos and control, so for the ordered Romans, worshipping him was banned, but in the counterculture of the 1960s, he saw a revival as liberty was embraced. But how do we balance freedom of spirit with the need for a rational and ordered society? A question as vital today as it was millennia ago. ★★ ★ ★ JL

Housing Yorkshire: Somewhere Called Home

● DOCUMENTARY / 9pm / C5

It's another busy day for the neighbourhood officers at Yorkshire's busy social housing offices. In Sheffield there have been complaints about anti-social behaviour, which involves noise and guests drinking in stairwells. Officer Clare is at her wits' end trying to track down the offender... Elsewhere, Lee in Bradford is on the hunt for a fly-tipper, but when he meets the tenant concerned he realises that there is a bigger issue which needs to be addressed. ★★ ★ MC

Remembering Dr King

King: The Dream Lives On

● DOCUMENTARY /
10pm / History

NEW Fifty years ago, in April 1968, civil rights campaigner Dr Martin Luther King Jr was shot on the balcony of a Memphis motel and a remarkable life came to a tragic end – King was only 39. This 50th anniversary tribute details his achievements and how they continue to resonate. ★★ ★ ★ SM

The Versace siblings are set to clash

Donatella finds herself in the spotlight as the drama continues

● DRAMA / 9pm / BBC2

There hasn't been nearly enough of Penélope Cruz's wonderful Donatella Versace so far in this drama. So it's pure joy to see far more of her tonight, especially as the episode takes us back to the early 1990s and a big camp showdown with her brother Gianni over her meddling in his fashion empire! What better way to make up than joining forces to design the 'dress to beat all dresses' for Donatella to wear at a glitzy Vogue party in New York!? But the publicity it brings for Donatella stirs envy in Gianni, and it's not long before the jealous designer gets his scissors out and butchers the dress... A slightly lighter episode, thanks to Donatella – we just adore her! ★★★★★ NC

The Assassination of Gianni Versace

Italian chef sisters Agata and Chiara help Lesley host a lunch

The Secret Helpers

● REAL LIFE / 8pm / BBC2

Lesley has been lonely since her husband died four years ago. The 74-year-old is shy and when she admits she would now like to spend the rest of her life with a woman, it's a shock to the usually unflappable Secret Helpers to say the least. Via Lesley's earpiece, Elisa from South Africa thinks a Zumba class might bring her out of her shell. But it's the sight of Lesley dancing in a gay bar that will bring a real tear to your eye. ★★★ LP

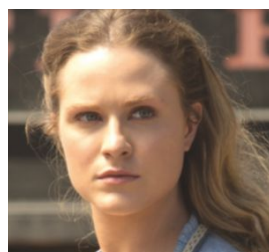

Bianca and Teza seem to hit it off!

First Dates

● REAL LIFE / 10pm / C4

Lee describes himself as a party animal who loves a big night out with his mates. His date, Abbi, doesn't drink and likes to be home in bed with a cup of tea by 10pm. It shouldn't work, but these two have a great evening – could it be the right time for Lee to put his party days behind him? Also looking for love are Cameron and Joe, who both have strong opinions to share, and Bianca, who can't stop laughing with lovely Teza. ★★★★★ JL

ALSO ON...

Westworld

● DRAMA / NOW TV

Catch up on season one of the android Western starring Evan Rachel Wood, Thandie Newton and Anthony Hopkins before season two debuts next month. ★★★★★

Champions League

● FOOTBALL / 7pm / BT Sport 2/3

LIVE Quarter-final second-leg action as Real Madrid host Juventus (BT Sport 2) and Bayern Munich face Sevilla (BT Sport 3). Kick-offs 7.45pm. ★★★★★

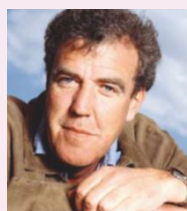

John Challis
Benidorm, ITV

- John had a pretty easy commute when he starred in The Green Green Grass in the early noughties – it was filmed in the garden of his home at Wigmore Abbey in Herefordshire!
- John, 75, would love to play a vampire on screen, 'Ever since I saw Christopher Lee and Peter Cushing in the Sixties I've longed to be Count Dracula. I was terrified'.
- Bristol-born John worked as a trainee estate agent when he left school, but always wanted to become an actor after seeing Peter Pan on stage at the age of eight.

Marilyn Monroe driving director Billy Wilder nuts

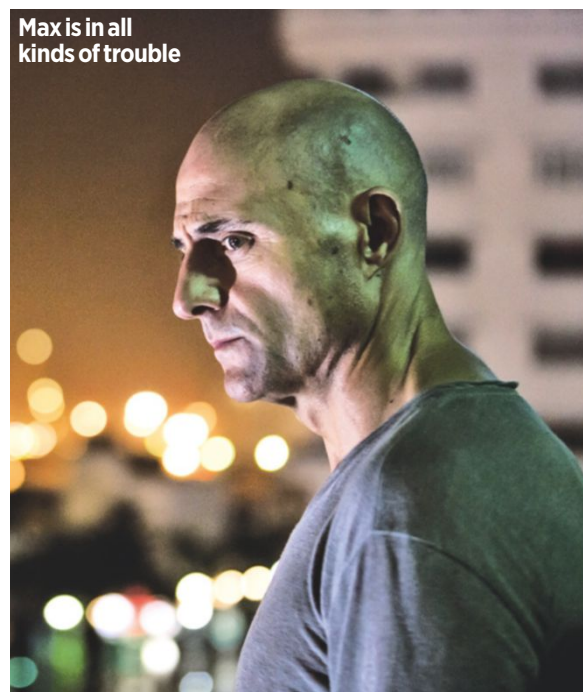

Urban Myths

● COMEDY / 9pm / Sky Arts

NEW There's a welcome return for the quirky series of one-off comedies that put a slightly fantastical spin on key events in the lives of famous faces. First up, a wonderful episode set in the Golden Age of Hollywood sees Gemma Arterton on sensational form as Marilyn Monroe, who's having a tough time delivering a line on the set of her legendary movie Some Like It Hot. Director Billy Wilder (James Purefoy) finds that his patience is wearing thin as his fragile star messes up take after take, but what can he do to ensure that she finally delivers? The rest of the colourful series will air weekly but all episodes are available on demand after the first has gone out. ★★★★★ CC

Max is in all kinds of trouble

Deep State

● DRAMA / 9pm / FOX

We're only on the second episode and we're already not sure who we can trust! Now in Beirut, Max has no trouble remembering his spy skills, but he is still uneasy about his mission. As his path crosses with Leyla's, they're suspicious of each other – but maybe survival depends on co-operating. Meanwhile, little does Max know that ruthless CIA wonk Amanda Jones is keeping an eye on him – or that his marriage is falling apart back at home, as his wife does more digging... ★★★★★ EB

Killer Peter Tobin

Investigator

● DOCUMENTARY / 9pm / ITV

Last week Mark Williams-Thomas looked into Louise Kay's disappearance and its possible links to jailed serial killer Peter Tobin. In this second programme, he visits Tobin's home city of Glasgow to investigate the deaths of three women in 1977. Anna Kenny, Agnes Cooney and Hilda McAuley were all abducted and killed in similar circumstances within four months of each other. A coincidence? ★★ IM

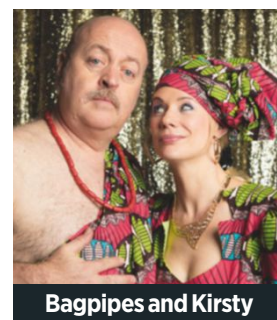

Ciao! Ralph Fiennes and Dakota Johnson

A Bigger Splash

● FILM / 9pm / Film4

PREMIERE A gorgeous, sun-soaked drama with Tilda Swinton and Ralph Fiennes in supreme form, this is the movie Italian Luca Guadagnino directed before hitting international fame with Call Me by Your Name. Swinton's an androgynous Bowie-esque rock star hiding out in the Sicilian countryside with lover

Matthias Schoenaerts, when their stillness is disturbed by her ex (Fiennes) and his young lover (Dakota Johnson). As the four characters bounce off each other, jealousy raises its ugly head in a wonderfully entertaining drama, with Fiennes a particular standout as a hyperactive force of nature. ★★★★★ NP

Bagpipes and Kirsty

In the Long Run

● COMEDY / 10pm / Sky One

Walter's goddaughter Cynthia holds a Sierra Leone engagement party, but dad Akie is refusing to come as he thinks her fiancé's family disapproves. One of the guests catches Valentine's eye and while Kobna is unimpressed with his African outfit (he prefers a shellsuit!), Kirsty and Bagpipes enter into the spirit with their own colourful dress. ★★★★★ CC

Mum looks on while Tharush and Jack study

Two teenagers try to improve their poor grades by moving in with a star student

● DOCUMENTARY / 8pm / BBC2

NEW How much of what happens at school is linked to the home environment? Could a radical change in family life turn a tricky teen into a dream pupil? That's the premise behind this one-off documentary, which takes two under-achieving 15-year-olds, who will be taking their GCSE exams in nine months, and places them in the homes of straight-A students. For six weeks, disillusioned Hollie will move in with head girl Holly, and Jack, who has had over 100 detentions, will live with multi-lingual Tharush, who recently moved to the UK from Italy. Will the strict family routines help focus the pair or frustrate all concerned? ★★★★★ MC

Vicki and Jack on their big day

The Cruise...

● DOCUMENTARY / 8.30pm / ITV

...Sailing the Caribbean. This second episode follows a wedding on board the Royal Princess, as Jack and Vicki tie the knot. Jack proposed to his childhood sweetheart while on another cruise two years ago, and since then Vicki has been busy planning the perfect big day. So there's no pressure on customer services manager Marcella! She's in charge of everything including the flowers, food and even the printing of the wedding certificate... ★★★★★ JL

Familiar? Derek Martin as cop DI Fred Pyall

Law and Order

● DRAMA / 10pm / BBC4

NEW In 1978 the country was rocked by a TV show depicting bent coppers, corrupt solicitors and a legal system run to suit itself. It caused an outcry, but once the dust settled, work started on the Police and Criminal Evidence Act of 1984, which regulated police powers. Now, 40 years later, BBC4 is showing all four parts. Leading the first episode is Derek Martin as DI Fred Pyall, who viewers will recognise as EastEnders' Charlie Slater. ★★★★★ JL

- 9.00 Civilisations Radiance: 7 of 9. Simon Schama looks at the links between colour and spirituality, beginning in the great Gothic cathedrals of Amiens and Chartres, before moving on to 16th-century Venice, where masterpieces by Giovanni Bellini and Titian contested the assumption that drawing would always be superior to colouring. He also sees how Francisco Goya's Black Paintings drained colour from the world of light; views dazzling colour on a mass-produced scale with the Japanese woodblock prints of the 18th and 19th centuries; and ends in Matisse's great chapel at Venice, where colour is used – against a backdrop of World War Two – to enrapture, enlighten and as a path to God. Lee Mack Not Going Out, BBC1

Back in 2015, self-confessed homebody Lee, 49, told TV Times he would rather be indoors than hanging out with celebrities...

'Whenever I go anywhere, people always make the same joke, "But I thought you didn't go out!" There was a time when I was really living it up and I loved every minute. But, call me crazy, now I get more excited about a wood-burning stove being delivered!'

FRIDAY 13 April

Borlú gets news from his boss, Gadlem

Matt's ex, Diane, summons him for a crisis talk

The City & The City

● DRAMA / 9pm (times vary) / BBC2

David Morrissey is proving superb casting as troubled Inspector Tyador Borlú in this visually stunning adaptation of China Miéville's thrilling 2009 novel of the same name. Tonight Borlú's investigation into the death of foreign student Mahalia hits a stumbling block when his boss Commissar Gadlem (the always excellent Ron Cook) tells him that the case has been taken over by the Ul Qoman Militiya. However, Gadlem allows Borlú to travel from Beszel to neighbouring city Ul Qoma in an advisory role. After undergoing a (scary-looking!) mandatory orientation course about crossing the border, Borlú is taken to Ul Qoma, but will he get any nearer to cracking the case? ★★★★★ SS

Episodes

● COMEDY / 10pm (times vary) / BBC2

Hapless Matt is in serious trouble with his fiery ex-wife, Diane, after it comes out his young sons have watched their dad's shameful 'Box' antics online. Matt is summoned to the family home to have a father-son chat, but Diane is left shaking her head in disbelief when Matt's apology falls seriously short. Meanwhile, Sean and Beverly tell irritating producer Tim to stick his job – hurrah! – and a stoned Carol ends up back in bed with her smarmy ex, Merc Lapidus. ★★★★★ TL

Alien: Covenant

● FILM / 8pm / Sky Cinema Premiere

PREMIERE Not everyone loved Prometheus, Ridley Scott's Alien 'prequel'. He's on surer territory in this sequel, a moody and eventually bloody meditation on what it means to be human. Michael Fassbender stars as a cyborg who's delighted when a ship full of colonists alight on the planet where he's been alone for 11 years. Little do they know what he's been up to down there, and what plans he has for the deadly Xenomorphs... Those hoping for shocks and a high body count – in true Alien style – won't be disappointed, with one famous face croaking within minutes of the film getting under way. ★★★ SM

How fame found Jane

Jane McDonald...

● DOCUMENTARY / 9pm / C5

NEW ...My Life Story follows the singer's rise to fame and early years. Jane's first word was Downtown, the title of Petula Clark's 1964 hit. As a teen she toured UK pubs and clubs with her dad (and roadie), Peter. But his sudden death in 1993 stopped her in her tracks: 'I ran away to sea,' Jane says of her time on the cruise ships. ★★★★★ MC

John and Gregg

winner for 2018

The country's finest amateur chefs face off in the grand final

● FOOD / 8.30pm / BBC1

LAST ONE After seven gruelling weeks hunched over hobs, and rustling up amazing creations including swans made of coconut and crazy concoctions of beetroot sorbet and smoked chicken, hearty pies to please the critics and oozy puddings to make Gregg weep tears of joy, the 56 amateur cooks have been whittled down to three. In tonight's final, the contestants must produce the three best dishes of their lives as they push their skills and creativity to the max. Only one will be crowned MasterChef champ and follow in the footsteps of last year's winner, Dr Saliha Mahmood-Ahmed. Who will wow judges John and Gregg the most and walk away with the coveted title? ★★★★★ TL

MasterChef: The Final

Toby Stephens
as John Robinson

Lost in Space

● SCI-FI / Netflix

NEW 'Danger, Will Robinson!' The 1960s series Lost in Space, about space pioneers the Robinson family, is fondly remembered as a camp cult classic. This 21st-century 10-part reboot stars Die Another Day's Toby Stephens as patriarch John Robinson, whose family is stranded on an uncharted planet. The show looks good, with plenty of jeopardy in this first episode, but it also has heart, and the new robot's pretty neat, too... ★★★★★ IM

Dwayne 'The Rock' Johnson
talks monsters

Graham Norton Show

● ENTERTAINMENT / 10.35pm / BBC1

Mr Norton welcomes Hollywood heavyweight Dwayne Johnson and Bond regular Naomie Harris to the studio to talk about their new blockbuster, monster thriller Rampage. Martin Freeman also pops by to chat about his horror anthology Ghost Stories, which has gone from stage to screen and will be in cinemas today, Friday 13 April (of course!). Music comes from rock god Roger Daltrey, performing new single As Long As I Have You. ★★★★★ MC

ALSO ON...

Will & Grace

● COMEDY /
from 10pm / C5

LAST ONE It's an emotional rollercoaster for the fab four as the rebooted sitcom concludes this series with a double bill. ★★★★★

Young Musician 2018

● MUSIC / 7.30pm / BBC4

Five more talented youngsters vie for the title, as the Percussion Category Final gets under way. Josie d'Arby presents. ★★★★★

I Don't Like Mondays

8pm / C4

Alan Carr hosts as more audience members compete to win a year's salary and resign live on air. ★★★★★

Clint Eastwood's fact-based sporting drama starring Morgan Freeman and Matt Damon. In his first year as president, Nelson Mandela seeks to heal the wounds of apartheid and forge a new rainbow nation in South Africa. Choosing to rally the country behind the country's team, the Springboks, at the 1995 Rugby World Cup seems foolhardy – rugby is a sport loved by whites, but to the black majority it is a symbol of apartheid. Yet as the unfancied Springboks, led by captain Francois Pienaar, hit a winning streak, Mandela's shrewd gambit begins to pay off. (W)(S)(HD)(AD) ★★★ (2009) See Films, pages 30-33

2019 Traditional Smaller Ship Cruises

Welcome to the latest selection of tremendous value, ex-UK, no-flying cruises on board Columbus, Magellan, Marco Polo and Astoria, a quartet of beautiful British operated ships, with sailings right through to the end of Autumn 2019. A wide choice of ports, wonderful destinations from which to choose, and an extraordinary Buy-One-Get-One-Free offer means there has never been a better time to join us! These tremendous value prices make it so much easier to join us for the cruise you've always wanted to take, to enjoy a longer voyage, or to treat yourself to a higher category cabin, or of course, use the saving to spend on board or ashore!

Glittering Columbus

Proud flagship of the CMV fleet and sailing from her home port of London Tilbury, beautifully appointed Columbus offers a range of hugely enjoyable, great value voyages, adding a touch of contemporary style to the traditional welcome and friendly warmth that have long been the hallmarks of the line.

Sleek, majestic Magellan

Since her arrival in the UK in 2015, sleek, majestic Magellan has built a fine reputation, and has been a welcome addition to the CMV fleet of traditional ocean-going cruise liners. Sailing from a choice of regional ports Magellan brings a touch of contemporary chic to the traditional welcome of the CMV cruise experience.

Elegant Marco Polo

In an age of vast, impersonal, floating hotels, 22,000-tonne Marco Polo, her profile marking her out as the epitome of sea-going elegance even before you've stepped aboard, is a beautiful ocean liner in the classic tradition. Offering high levels of comfort, sumptuous dining in stylish surrounds, and a warm welcome.

Intimate Astoria

Beautifully appointed 550-passenger Astoria, with her classic profile, fine lines and range of on-board amenities, is every inch the perfect complement to her sister ships. Originally built as a transatlantic liner and beautifully restored, Astoria offers all the comforts, convenience and a warm welcome that is the hallmark of all CMV operations.

Great Karma

Sunday nights just got good again – The Good Karma Hospital is back! I really like the way the first episode featured stories about lots of the characters. That, along with the beautiful scenery, is just what the doctor ordered.

Linda Bray, Berkshire

Great Endeavour

I loved the latest series of Endeavour on ITV, with Shaun Evans back as the young detective Morse. The stories kept us interested and were very absorbing, and DI Thursday (Roger Allam), with his sardonic sense of humour and traditional values, was a joy to watch.

Angela Garvin, Essex

TV TURN OFF

Room 101

This show belongs in Room 101! It used to be a really fun show, now guests only have two nominations, and most of the chats consist of host Frank Skinner talking about himself! It's time to put the BBC1 series to bed.

S Waters, E Sussex

LETTER OF THE WEEK

Delectable Durrells

The Durrells is a delectable dose of escapism. Keeley Hawes and the rest of the cast are excellent as the family embracing life on Corfu head-on, against a backdrop of stunning photography. I loved the first two series and have been eagerly anticipating the third one, and I'm not disappointed. Well done and thank you, ITV!

S Woolf, Dorset

Welcome return: The Durrells

Real deal Seals

I'm enjoying Sky One's new drama, Seal Team. It is action-packed and as always with these types of shows, it is apparent early on that the characters have plenty of issues. It'll be interesting to see what they are, and how they affect things as it goes on.

Ian Laird, Birkenhead

Chateau dreams

I was so happy to see C4's Escape to the Chateau return to our screens. It's inspiring to see dreams being fulfilled through determination and hard work. I found it absorbing to follow the family's renovation of their fairytale castle in France. Their have-a-go attitude and dedication was great, and it was exciting to see the transformation. Lovely, romantic escapism for a Sunday evening.

Diane Doona, Staffordshire

Brave David

Although harrowing to watch, I had to write about the recent rape storyline in ITV's Corrie. It showed that the perpetrator can be someone you know and trust, but it also showed the victim can be male. And what a gem of an actor Jack P Shepherd is as David.

Ginette Kneller, Leicester

Jack P Shepherd as David

The street to stardom...

It's hard to imagine now, but 21 years ago TV audiences only knew BAFTA-winning Happy Valley and Last Tango in Halifax star Sarah Lancashire as dizzy, lovable barmaid Raquel in Coronation Street.

After five years in the soap, Sarah departed to play district nurse Ruth Goddard in ITV drama Where the Heart Is, though she admitted doing so was nerve-racking.

'Leaving was like stepping over a cliff,' she told us. 'But there comes a time when you either stay forever or go. I decided to go.'
